Using the copy task (using ant) of the apache tomcat build.xml allows me to specify several target paths to deploy to, as long as I don't specify multiple server.xml files. Is there a way to specify multiple domains or more specific httpd.conf options in server.xml at once, rather than having to create multiple files? I looked in the comments for a way to do this, but no luck... A: When invoking Ant from the command line, you can use the -include

How to make a tiff in CD using GIMP To make a tiff in CD using GIMP is to burn in tiff format a screen video (like video made with Windows movie maker or free video editing software) with GIMP. Commands are : - Choose an existing video file that you have - Choose Burn/burnVideoFile and choose as folder the folder where your video file is - Set as well as you want the compression, I used rle (repeated runs-long run length encoding) - Set the size of the bitmap at which you want to burn/make the tiff file - Set the bit depth - Set the data type - Set the jpg quality to save your image - Set Burn as the name of the file and Burn as output. It is your.TIF file Enjoy your tiff in CD! PS: If you want to compress it to convert the size to make it fit a CD, there is already a function that you can use. called "the Creation Concept," a concept of an ordered universe. If there is an absolute, creator being, a person who created this universe, or an absolute intelligence who created this universe, then there is a Divine Creator who is both all-powerful, all-knowing, all-loving and all-wise, and therefore is personal. The Divine exists, exists as a person, can be communicated with, talked with, and communicated with from mind to mind, and can be described in terms of love. If you learn to understand the words of love and serve with love, you can get to communicate with the Divine. It's unfortunate that many feel that God is too big to be true. The Divine, the Ultimate Reality, is just as huge as the Big Bang theory, the theory of relativity or quantum mechanics, but just as real. We like to dismiss what we can't imagine. Are you willing to try? The Divine has the same objective function as "that which is right." (Gandhi) Is not the scale too small for you? Then there is no God. You have no right to say that a thing exists when you cannot know its existence, or even conceive it's possibility. Your ignorance must not be measured by your lack of power.Q: IOS, UI view display value to UI label text I have a App where the 3e33713323
